Christmas donation

„In the end, our relationships with people are what give life its real value.“
(Wilhelm von Humboldt)

Dear Business Partners,

As done last year, the Prinz-Mayweg Group decided to donate to the Balthasar Children's and Youth Hospice instead of sending presents.

The Balthasar Children's Hospice is a place to live and laugh, to die and grieve. Balthasar was set up in 1998 as Germany's first children's hospice and was founded to provide support for the children with life-shortening conditions and their families.

At Balthasar children's hospice the emphasis is on living and laughing. Our aim is to make the most of life by making the life of a child with life-shortening conditions as positive and worth living as possible. Thus, we offer a snozelen room, music therapy and therapy dogs as well as activities such as reading out to the children, cuddling or just spending time with them.

At the beginning of 2009, the Balthasar young adults' hospice was opened as the first German hospice for young people, closing a gap between children's and adults' hospice. Due to medical and technical progress, the sick children who died in childhood just a few years ago today become adolescents and young adults. In Germany, there was no hospice facility for these young people that would meet their special needs in terms of illnesses, psychosocial support or spatial requirements – until the opening of the Balthasar young adult's hospice.

The special thing about a children's and young adults' hospice is that the entire family is always accompanied on their difficult journey. "Balthasar" wants to be a second home for the children and families. Around the clock, the children and young people are looked after and cared for by experienced staff from the fields of children's nursing, nursing and education.

The Balthasar hospice also support the parents, for instance by allowing them to take a rest while our team cares for their child. Furthermore, parents always find someone to talk to about their concerns and grief – either someone from our team, or other parents who are in a similar situation.
